C Products labelled Good Environmental Choice left in stock

This section applies to licences that have expired in 2021. Under point 4 in the calculation template you will see which products that have been affected by this during the year. If your company does not have any of these products, you can skip point C all together.

C1 Products left in stock

Do any of the products that previously had a Good Environmental Choice licence remain instock, without the Good Environmental Choice label having been removed or hidden?

- Yes No

C2 Sold products from stock

Have you, after the end of the licence period, sold products from your stock without having first removed or hidden the Good Environmental Choice label?

- Yes No

C3 Incorrectly labelled products

If the response is Yes to any of the above questions, fill in the product name, licence number and the number of incorrectly labelled products in the table below.

Name of products	Licence number	Number of products supplied/ sold following end of licence period	Number of products left in stock

It is a breach of the licence terms for Good Environmental Choice to sell products after the end of the licence period without the Good Environmental Choice label having been removed or hidden. If the activity report reveals that incorrectly labelled products have been sold after the end of the licence period, the Swedish Society for Nature Conservation will contact you regarding a fine.

The licence holder guarantees that all information submitted to the Swedish Society for Nature Conservation is correct.
